FRANKFORT, JUNE 25, 1892.

A DEAD CHILD.

A Girl's Sin Finds Her Out.

Sunday morning Mr. Dave Peevler went up on the Fort Hill after his cow, and when only a short distance up the hill, discovered the body of a white child, only a few hours old, wrapped in a newspaper and buried under a thin layer of earth with a few rocks laid upon it, near the path. Coroner Dehoney was notified, and held an inquest upon the remains, when the jury returned a verdict that the child had come to its death from strangulation, there being marks of violence upon its neck. Coroner Dehoney afterwards had Dr. G. F. Thompson to perform an autopsy upon the body, when it was developed that the child was alive when born and that its skull had been crushed.

The police were notified and went to work on the case. They soon found a clue and on Monday arrested Ella Dickerson, a girl about eighteen years of age employed as a laundry maid at the Capital Hotel. She confessed that she gave birth to the child on Saturday night in a house on Clinton street, called a negro man in from the street and gave him the babe with instructions to take it away, but further than that she would say nothing. She was lodged in jail to await the action of the grand jury.

Dr. DeLime Dead.

Dr. Louis A. DeLime, who was stricken with paralysis several weeks ago, died at his home on Cross street Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, aged 78 years and two months.

The deceased was born in France, where his early years were spent in the pursuits of a chemist, and also as a soldier and politician. He participated in the many revolutions in Paris preceding the dynasty of Louis Napoleon, and in 1853 emigrated to this country and located in St. Louis, Missouri, where he engaged in the re-distilling and aging of whisky and amassed quite a fortune, but as he refused to enter the whisky ring with McDonald, Joyce and others, that organization succeeded in having an order issued by the Government forcing him to close down his business, which caused him to lose in a short time all he had made. In 1874 he came to this city and accepted the position of distiller at the O. F. C. Distillery and continued to reside here until his death, though his advancing age prevented him from engaging in active business pursuits for several years past.

Shortly after locating in St. Louis he married a Miss Jackson, of that city, who, together with two children, Mr. Thos. L. DeLime, of Louisville, and Mrs. Jas. A. Murray, of this city, still survives him—his oldest daughter, Mrs. Chas. O. Reynolds, of Lexington, having preceded him to the grave some three years ago.

The deceased was a courtly, dignified gentleman, who was universally popular with all who knew him, and his death was a severe blow to his devoted family. The funeral took place from his late residence Monday afternoon at 5 o'clock, and the remains were laid to rest in the cemetery.

State Teachers' Association.

The next meeting of the Kentucky State Teachers' Association will be held at Paducah, June 28, 29 and 30. Extensive preparations have been made by the citizens of that live and enterprising town, and this is expected to be the best meeting in the history of the Association. Important topics are to be discussed and good speakers have been engaged. An exhibition of school work will be extensive, and numerous schools will be represented. Half fare rates on the railroads have been secured, and low rates for boarding. Ladies will be entertained free. A large attendance from this section is earnestly desired. The work of education is advancing, and progressive teachers are always found at these meetings.

Parties who go over the L. & N. Railroad should send membership fee—one dollar—at once to the Secretary, R. H. Carothers, Louisville, Ky., and get Certificate of Membership in order to get half-fare rates.

Reorganized.

The Frankfort Brass Band has again reorganized, and will commence practicing regularly in a short time, so as to be ready to fill all orders they may receive.

Sunday-school to be Organized.

A Sunday-school will be organized at Pea Ridge School-house to-morrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. Everybody is invited, and it is hoped that all the children in the neighborhood will be present and enter classes.

A Family Row.

A difficulty occurred Wednesday afternoon, near the Arsenal, on upper Main street, between two young men by the name of Mitchell on one side and two of the Bartlett boys on the other, in which one shot was fired but no one injured. One of the Mitchell's married a sister of the Bartlett's and the fuss grew out of some family trouble.

Excursion Party.

A special train bearing quite a number of the teachers and pupils of the Louisville High School came up Tuesday morning. The excursionists visited the Legislature and were presented to the House of Representatives, then called on the Governor and afterwards visited the different points of interest in and about the city, leaving for home at 6:30 p. m.

Across the Deep, to the Far West.

On steamboats, cars and stage-coaches, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is carried as the most important item in the materia medica of the traveling public. It deprives vitiated, brackish water of its hurtful properties and exerts a flavor, counteracts the pernicious effects upon the stomach of bad or indigestible food, remedies cramps, heartburn and wind upon the stomach. It is a fine defense against malarial disorders, nullifies the effects of excessive heat, cold and damp, relieves sick-headaches, and is an incomparable cure for costiveness and biliousness. The fatigue of travel often tells most disastrously upon invalids and convalescents, occasionally to such an extent as to jeopardize life. Persons in feeble health, apprehensive of bad effects from travel, will, if provided with the Bitters, be far less likely to have their fears realized.

Sale of Real Estate.

Commissioner William Cromwell sold at public sale, on Monday, the house and lot belonging to the late Miss Mary Ann Gayle, located on the corner of Second and Main streets, South Frankfort, to Judge Ben. G. Williams, for twenty three hundred and fifteen dollars.

The property of the late Sidney Johnson, on upper Main street, was also offered for sale at the same time by Commissioner Cromwell and was knocked down to Mr. W. A. Howard for twenty-eight hundred and thirty dollars, but the sale will hardly be confirmed.

Fire Wednesday.

About 9 o'clock Wednesday morning an alarm was sent in from box 16, occasioned by the burning of two frame cottages in the colored settlement on Elm street, east of Logan. The fire broke out in the kitchen of one of the houses occupied by Cynthia Campbell and soon communicated to the other, occupied by Lewis Washington and Julia Davis. The fire department was slow in reaching the scene of the fire on account of a refractory horse and as a consequence both houses were totally destroyed and one other badly damaged. One of the houses burned was the property of Jas. R. Norrel and the other was owned by Anthony Williams, and were both insured. Lewis Washington saved his furniture, but Julia Davis got out only a part of hers, while Cynthia Campbell lost everything. None of the tenants had their furniture insured.

CLOSED.

St. Joseph's Academy and St. Aloysius School.

The closing exercises of the above schools took place Tuesday evening, at the school building, corner of Wapping and St. Clair streets, and was attended by a large audience. The ceremonies were in charge of Rev. Father James Gorey, and every one of the children who participated acquitted themselves well and received generous applause. Both schools have been prosperous the past year, but there were no graduates, and the exercises were mainly musical.

The Last One Gone.

Mrs. Cordelia Kendall received a telegram Wednesday morning announcing the death of her only remaining grandchild, little Eliza Green, aged three years, at the home of his parents, Dr. F. P. Green and wife, in Memphis, Tennessee, which sad event occurred at 12 o'clock on Tuesday. Just one week before Dr. and Mrs. Green lost their youngest son, little Kendall, and now the fell destroyer has rendered them childless. The death of their little ones is attributed to the unhealthfulness of the climate. The many friends of Mrs. Green in this city are deeply grieved at the double affliction which has come upon her.
